DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 13-21, 24, 25 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 13 is confusing because it is unclear how the material subsequent to the term “wherein” relates to the preamble of the claim which describes a soft magnetic composite powder. It is suggested that claim language similar to that of claim 21 is used.

Claim 19 is unclear because it seems to refer to a particulate resin material by the phrase “particle diameter of the resin material”. However, claim 13, upon which claim 19 depends, does not describe or require that the resin material be a particulate material.

Claims 14-21 are deemed indefinite in view of their dependency upon claim 13.

Claim 24, “low” in the phrase “low melting point glass” renders the claim indefinite in that “low” is a relative term, yet there’s no basis to ascertain what constitutes “low melting point glass”.

Claim 25 is unclear because it seems to refer to a particulate resin material by the phrase “particle diameter of the resin material”. However, claim 22, upon which claim 25 depends, does not describe or require that the resin material be a particulate material.

Claim 28 suffers the same deficiency of claim 25.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 13-30 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-9 and 13-17 of copending Application No. 11/547,357. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant claims and the referenced claims are essentially directed to the same subject matter: a soft-magnetic composite powder whose surface is covered with an insulating material and a resin material. The referenced claims describe functional resin material comprising functional particles wherein the functional particles are of soft magnetic particles (see referenced claim 4).

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 13-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the JP'202 patent (JP 11-256,202).

Claims 13-17: JP'202 teaches a material powder comprising a soft magnetic powder covered with a glass material and a resin material. See paragraph [0006]. The glass material bonds to the magnetic powder by surface fusion and the resin material also bonds to the magnetic powder by surface-fusion. See paragraphs [0016] and [0019]

Claim 18: See paragraph [0014].

Claim 19: See paragraph [0014].

Claim 20: See paragraph [0011] and examples.

Claim 21: See paragraphs [0011], [0014] and examples.

Claims 22-23: See paragraph [0014] and examples.

Claim 24: The glass material is a low melting point glass. See paragraph [0011].

Claim 25: See par. [0014].
